Beschreibung

Timeless beauty, enduring innovation. Talaria motor yachts are built in Maine of epoxy-infused carbon fibre and Kevlar™. Their lines are beautiful because of our enduring focus on innovation. Created in response to customer requirements for more space and more power, the Talaria line represents the pinnacle of American yachting. Designed for gracious entertaining at sea, even the standard configurations deliver astonishing performance for vessels of their size.

Passengers are greeted by intricate woodworking which reveals the regard for detail held by Hinckley craftsmen. An enclosure between the cockpit and elegant salon offers open air, single level entertaining while open and a protected, secure, and temperature-controlled interior when closed.

This was and is the absolute best Hinckley Talaria 48 MkII Motor Yacht available.
