Beschreibung:

This exceptional Wavedancer One-Off performance catamaran was designed as a long-distance cruiser for fast and safe sea passages in autonomous operation, with excellent comfort below deck. Wavedancer is a sporty and fast catamaran that is also very easy to handle. The helm is neutral. This catamaran was built in Hamburg using a GRP-EPOXY-Divinycell sandwich construction, reinforced with carbon – a modern, stiff, and lightweight build with a rotating carbon mast, profiled daggerboards, boom, and bowsprit. The rotating wing mast optimizes wind flow to the mainsail. The trampolines between the hulls allow you to hover about 1.40 meters above the sea, remaining almost dry even in rough conditions. The rudder blades, as the daggerboards, are retractable, allowing for the discovery of shallow waters and anchoring in sheltered bays close to the shore. Wavedancer has just been modified with negative bows for even more buoyancy and performance. A recent refit has been completed. The catamaran is now ready for viewing and handover on the river Elbe in Hamburg-Wedel.
