Description

The Broadblue 345 is an ideal catamaran for families and couples. This model is small enough to make a passage through the French canals, but absolutely seaworthy and robust to carry a Category A (Ocean) status, all with 2m headroom throughout the boat. A beautifully crafted catamaran, whose predecessors have sailed all over the World. The first and current private German owner, sailed this sound cruising-cat in North- and Baltic-sea during the summer seasons until 2025. The owner kept his cat permanently professionally maintained and upgraded this most renowned design. Ready to set sails with polished hulls, this excellent coastal and offshore cruising catamaran, might be inspected at the yard near Wilhelmshaven/Northsea. For any additional, specific detail, please contact cat sale at: info@cat-sale.de
