Neptunus 129 Express – Well-Maintained Motor Yacht with Spacious Accommodation

Offered for sale on behalf of the owner is this well-maintained Neptunus 129 Express, built in 1995 in Aalst, the Netherlands. The yacht has been owned by the current third owner since 2015.

With an overall length of approximately 14.15 m, a beam of 4.20 m, and a displacement of around 15 tons, this yacht offers generous living space and excellent comfort for extended cruising.

The yacht is powered by two Volvo Penta TAMD 63P diesel engines, each producing 370 HP, delivering a total of 740 HP through reliable shaft drives. Engine hours are approximately 1,214 hours (starboard) and 1,390 hours (port). The engines have been professionally serviced on a regular basis.

The spacious cockpit and flybridge steering position provide excellent visibility and comfort. The full cockpit enclosure was renewed around 2016/2017 and can be closed on the sides for protection in poor weather. A bimini top provides welcome shade on sunny days.

Below deck, the yacht features a bright and comfortable saloon with large side windows, two cabins with fixed double berths, and a spacious U-shaped galley. The owner's cabin is located aft and includes a private bathroom with shower. An additional toilet compartment is located forward. Headroom throughout the interior is approximately 190–195 cm.

The yacht is equipped with numerous comfort and navigation features, including:

Bow thruster

Stern thruster

Raytheon radar

Raytheon GPS

Raytheon autopilot

Sailor VHF radio

Raymarine chartplotter

Logic compass

Rudder angle indicator

Heating system

Air conditioning

Trim tabs

Electric anchor windlass

Gangway

Recent upgrades include:

New cockpit enclosure (approx. 2016/2017)

New carpets in the saloon and forward cabin (approx. 2016)

New VHF radio

New windscreen wipers

A spacious and comfortable Dutch-built motor yacht, perfectly suited for extended cruising and enjoyable time aboard.
